with the publication of abraham cohen de herrera s gate of heaven a widely influential work of jewish mysticism is available for the first time in an unabridged annotated english edition in this work originally written in spanish for the marrano community of amsterdam herrera d 1635 follows the syncretic model of marsilio ficino and pico della mirandola in reconciling the teachings of the sefer yezirah the zohar mores cordovero isaac lurian and the lurianic school in particular israel sarug with aristotelian platonic and neoplatonic metaphysics medieval islamic and jewish theology and scholasticism this thorough synthesis explains the work s appeal to philosophers like spinoza leibniz henry more hegel and jacob bruckner

a complete and unabridged english translation of abraham cohen de herrera s principal kabbalistic work with an introduction to his life works and influence and comprehensive notes on his kabbalistic and philosophical sources by kenneth krabbenhoft in this book the author seeks to find historiographical and textual evidence that abraham cohen de herrera s main kabbalistic work puerta del cielo influenced spinoza s metaphysics as it is expounded in his later work the ethica many of the most important ontological topics maintained by the philosopher like the concept of the first cause as substance the procession of the infinite modes the subjective or metaphorical reality of the attributes and the two different understandings of god were anticipated in herrera s mystical treatise both shared a particular consideration of panentheism that entails acosmism this influence is proven through a comparative examination of the writings of both authors as well as a detailed research on previous jewish philosophical thought joseph dan the gershom scholem professor of kabbalah emeritus at the hebrew university and long time professor of jewish studies at the freie universitat berlin is one of the most influential figures in the fields of jewish mystical thought homiletical and ethical literature modern messianism and hasidism and contemporary belles lettres his studies of the diverse aspects of jewish creativity with close attention to the dialectics of religious cultural continuity versus historical innovation provide a comprehensive overview of the complex history of jewish thought and its multiple creative faces it is precisely for this reason to honor joseph dan s multifaceted research that his many colleagues students and friends scattered among universities around the world have decided to focus their contributions in this festschrift on the continuing process of creation and re creation in jewish thought throughout the once a prophet of critical other thought heidegger has now for many become the epitome of the unthinkable in the light of the black notebooks controversy the unthinkable here is anti semitism the encounter between heidegger and the jews has thus come to signify very much in the spirit of heidegger s own anti judaism the end of thought the present volume resists this view by positing not only heidegger but also the jewish people as representing thought the encounter between heidegger and various traditions of jewish thought is conceived here as a conversation inter alia an exchange between real or perceived others others to the philosophical tradition to mainstream modernity to western christian metaphysics to each other and even to themselves the conversation takes shape in this volume as a symposium of seventeen essays by leading scholars both of heidegger s philosophy and of jewish studies the study of the hebrew language in protestant europe initiated the development of modern philology christian theology and jewish tradition fostered christian hebraism which functioned as a catalyst for many subjects in the humanities this volume presents the results of a conference held in wittenberg in october 2002 it evaluates the history of christian hebraism from jewish grammatical works up to the hebrew training of protestant missionaries prominent figures like ludwig geiger and hermann l strack as well as different centres of hebrew learning from basel to groningen are described in detail in fourteen essays they focus on the influence of humanism kabbalah and the renewed discussions about the philosophical works of maimonides this book constitutes the first attempt to address the category of sonship in jewish mystical literature as a whole a category much more vast than ever imagined by this survey not only can the mystical forms of sonship in judaism be better understood but the concept of sonship in religion in general can also be enriched
