r paul shaw has travelled widely in the arab world obtaining data and gathering impressions first hand from national and local planners in this book he identifies population and manpower problems that are likely to become more serious and more difficult to solve if they are neglected at this early stage of arab development he focuses on five broad areas which are directly or indirectly related to mobilizing human resources and his book will be of special interest to all those who are concerned with such issues as population migration employment inequality the emancipation of women construction and agriculture dr shaw proposes policy directives which are sensitive to the problems as they are seen by the arab governments themselves and sets out practical guidelines which can be used by arab planners and policy makers an important feature of the book with respect to current literature on arab development is that it moves away from a preoccupation with growth related investments to a concentration on development related population manpower and employment issues by bringing together such comprehensive empirical and bibliographic information it will also be invaluable as a reference source for some twenty arab countries first published in 1983 the thirteenth volume based on the giorgio levi della vida conference reassesses the role of the iranian peoples in the development and consolidation of islamic civilization in his key essay ehsan yarshater casts fresh light on that role challenging the view that after reaching a climax in baghdad in the ninth century islamic culture entered a period of decline in fact he maintains a new and remarkably creative phase began in khurasan and transoxania symbolized by the adoption of persian as a medium of literary expression by the mid sixteenth century persian literary and intellectual paradigms had spread from anatolia to india encompassing the greater part of the islamic world yarshater also challenges traditional assumptions about the islamization of persia in the essays which follow six distinguished scholars consider the historical cultural and religious aspects of the persian presence in the islamic world while strong armed forces remain the bedrock in safeguarding national interests new kinds of power projection are now required both to make the use of force hard power more effective and in some instances to replace it with the deployment of what has been labelled soft power soft power involves getting what a country wants by influencing other countries to want the same thing through attraction persuasion and co option the information and digital revolution has transformed international relations and foreign policy meaning that the uk must win over new and wider audiences to its point of view the uk must change the way it interacts with other nations and communities and is well equipped to do so soft power methods of exercising international influence must now be combined with older approaches in order to secure and promote the uk s interests and purposes to ensure that the exercise of soft power takes its place at the core of government policy making the committee calls for the creation of a new strategic unit at the heart of government its purpose would be to assist the prime minister in ensuring all departments understand the importance of soft power and of upholding the uk s reputation and in swiftly counteracting any potentially damaging policies or messages while investing in soft power takes time to produce results the committee makes a number of recommendations including that bbc world service s budget is not reduced any further in real terms and that the british council is properly resourced to encourage the uk s creative industries this study tackles the issue of female child marriage in the arab region particularly in conflict and humanitarian settings it explores the causes of this problem with a distinction between such structural determinants as family and community relations and gender roles that have long been present in many arab countries and such contextual determinants as instability displacement and extreme poverty it also investigates the economic and health effects of child marriage for young brides their children and their communities especially in post conflict contexts the study also provides an overview of national obligations with regard to preventing child marriage as stipulated by international instruments and humanitarian laws it concludes with policy recommendations to address the multifaceted dimensions of child marriage and its implications for the rights of the girl child this book purports to examine the international dimensions of the democratization process in egypt in the post cold war era a theme which acquired significance at the academic and policy oriented levels in light of the growing internationalization of reform arrangements in the arab world in post 9 11 and the greater involvement of external powers in arab politics following the arab spring uprisings during the second half of the twentieth century the mainstream scholarship presented the democratization process as the outcome of domestic conditions not significantly influenced by actors outside the nation state with the end of the cold war this perspective was challenged as a result of the third wave of democratization and the subsequent growth of the good governance discourse on the agenda of the international development establishment the new perspective attached a more significant role to external factors in the democratization process than was originally conceptualized the arab human development report aims at building human development in the arab world gender inequality is generally recognized as one of the main obstacles to development in the arab region this volume of the report focuses on the history and contemporary dynamics of arab women s economic political and social empowerment it details the processes in which gender impacts on arab development while suggesting means of overcoming some of the challenges and building more equitable societies
