the blackwell companion to substance dualism this is a terrific volume by a long way the best currently available anthology on dualism and a worthy addition to blackwell's distinguished series of companions tim crane central european university a major contribution to an ongoing transformation of analytic philosophy of mind howard robinson central european university this high quality volume offers a rich variety of perspectives on substance dualism and will be a valuable resource for students and researchers in philosophy of mind and philosophy of religion john cottingham university of reading thorough and fair the quality of the essays is high this will certainly be the book on substance dualism michael tye university of texas at austin substance dualism has for some time been dismissed as an archaic and defeated position in philosophy of mind but in recent years the topic has experienced a resurgence of scholarly interest and has been restored to contemporary prominence by a growing minority of philosophers prepared to interrogate the core principles upon which past objections and misunderstandings rest as the first book of its kind to bring together a collection of contemporary writing from top proponents and critics in a pro contra format the blackwell companion to substance dualism captures this ongoing dialogue and sets the stage for rigorous and lively discourse around dualist and physicalist accounts of human persons in philosophy chapters explore emergent thomistic cartesian and other forms of substance dualism broadly conceived in dialogue with leading varieties of physicalism including animalism non reductive physicalism and constitution theory loose menuge and moreland pair essays from dualist advocates with astute criticism from physicalist opponents and vice versa highlighting points of contrast for readers in thematic sections while showcasing today s leading minds engaged in direct debate taken together essays provide nuanced paths of introduction for students and capture the imagination of professional philosophers looking to expand their understanding of the subject skillfully curated and in touch with contemporary science as well as analytic theology the blackwell companion to substance dualism strikes a measured balanced between advocacy and criticism and is a first rate resource for researchers scholars and students of philosophy theology and neuroscience justification as ignorance offers an original account of epistemic justification as both non factive and luminous vindicating core internalist intuitions without construing justification as an internal condition knowable by reflection alone sven rosenkranz conceives of justification in its doxastic and propositional varieties as a kind of epistemic possibility of knowing and of being in a position to know his account contrasts with recent alternative views that characterize justification in terms of the metaphysical possibility of knowing instead he develops a suitable non normal multi modal epistemic logic for knowledge and being in a position to know that respects the finding that these notions create hyperintensional contexts he also defends his conception of justification against well known anti luminosity arguments shows that the account allows for fruitful applications and principled solutions to the lottery and preface paradoxes and provides a metaphysics of justification and its varying degrees of strength that is compatible with core assumptions of the knowledge first approach and disjunctivist conceptions of mental states
