in this volume a microhistorical approach is employed to provide a transcription translation and case study of the proceedings written in latin italian and arabic of the roman inquisition on malta s 1605 trial of the moorish slave sellem bin al sheikh mansur who was accused and found guilty of practising magic and teaching it to the local christians through both a detailed commentary and individual case studies it assesses what these proceedings reflect about religion society and politics both on malta and more widely across the mediterranean in the early 17th century in so doing this inter and multi disciplinary project speaks to a wide range of subjects including magic christian muslim relations slavery maltese social history mediterranean history and the roman inquisition it will be of interest to both students and researchers who study any of these subjects and will help demonstrate the richness and potential of the documents in the maltese archives with contributions by joan abela dionisius a agius paul auchterlonie jonathan barry charles burnett frans ciappara pierre lory alex malett ian netton catherine r rider liana saif the 2003 04 season was a dream for anyone in the orbit of saint joseph s basketball being a student on hawk hill at the time i lived every second of it and long assumed i knew everything imaginable about that team and that time aaron bracy proved otherwise a soaring season isn t only a joyous echo of those days but it s a deeply reported dive into all the coincidental circumstances required for ordinary people to go extraordinary places brendan quinn the athletic in the 2003 04 season saint joseph s became the most unlikely and most incredible story in college basketball the underdog hawks captivated the entire city of philadelphia and much of the nation with a unique guard oriented style and team first mentality featuring players who were not wanted by power conferences big time programs passed over star point guard jameer nelson because of his height but nelson played an oversized sensational game that dwarfed his 5 feet 11 inches height nelson s backcourt mate delonte west was a lightly recruited prospect out of high school but transformed himself into an nba first round draft pick with a work ethic and competitive drive that never had been seen before or since on hawk hill outspoken head coach phil martelli overlooked for the only job he had ever wanted until he was nearly 41 years old surrounded nelson and west with a perfect cast of complementary players individually none of nelson and west s teammates would be mentioned as an all american candidate put all of the hawks together however and you had a practically unstoppable force not only did the players accept their roles they relished them and each one s contribution from nelson and west all the way down to former cheerleader and walk on robert hartshorn was crucial to the entire team s success the hawks spurred on by a mascot who never stops flapping its wings and a never quit school mantra the hawk will never die played their games in a gym that wasn't even as modern as many high schools not much about the hawks home felt big time not much that is except their team it was this low budget mom and pop men's basketball program that overcame seemingly insurmountable odds to complete a perfect regular season rise to the unanimous no 1 ranking in the country and become the envy of the blue bloods of the sport st. joe's provided hope then and today by reminding everyone that you don't have to be the biggest to beat the biggest or have the best to be the best the war in europe was reaching its cataclysmic final months with germany surrounded on all sides hitler's forces had been driven from poland by the red army and the soviets were poised a short distance from berlin while the western allies having repulsed the führer's ardennes offensive were preparing to cross the rhine more than ever hitler needed his people to stiffen their resolve for the coming onslaught to demonstrate what will be expected of the german people and what they could achieve if they refused to acknowledge defeat a major feature film would be shown featuring the one place which held out against napoleon when he invaded prussia in 1807 the city of kolberg after crushing the prussian army in 1806 french forces swept into the prussian province of pomerania one by one the prussian fortresses surrendered mostly without offering any resistance except for kolberg the small and weakly fortified city held out for four months despite being surrounded by napoleon's forces with major von gneisenau organizing a citizen's militia to aid the army in its defense though much of the city was blasted into ruin kolberg remained in prussian hands until the war with france ended with the signing of the peace of tilsit by which time its defense had become legendary even though the third reich was literally entering its death throes in attempting to reproduce the siege of kolberg on film thousands of experts extras and horses were taken from the war effort by the reich minister of propaganda joseph goebbels the film's emphasis was to show how civilians and the military can work together to save germany just as kolberg had been saved from the french the result has been stated to be the most expensive feature film ever made in germany this book examines the dramatic conditions under which the film was produced and the scale of the resources needed to do so followed by its first showing on 30 january 1945 all goebbels efforts though were to no avail as the film never went on general release a month later as the author reveals kolberg found itself under siege once again but this time after bitter house to house fighting it fell to the soviets in less than four weeks this is a ground breaking volume on the role of religion as a major force of cohesion across the indian ocean region a diverse range of experts present a case for conceptualizing religion as an enabler of not only shared religious identities throughout the indian ocean world but multiple shared identities mediated through religion particularly as religion intersects with other manifestations of human society in this part of the world this theme is explored through six major religious traditions many of which originated in the indian ocean region and all of which have played major roles throughout its history and to the present day these traditions include judaism christianity islam hinduism jainism and buddhism with this breadth and coverage of these traditions and their role in unifying communities from east africa to western australia including those belonging to nations north of that expanse of ocean this book is a pioneering work on the multi religious identities of the region
