what to eat is a classic the perfect guidebook to help navigate through the confusion of which foods are good for us usa today since its publication in 2006 marion nestle s what to eat has become the definitive guide to making healthy and informed choices about food praised as radiant with maxims to live by in the new york times book review and accessible reliable and comprehensive in the washington post what to eat is an indispensable resource packed with important information and useful advice from the acclaimed nutritionist who has become to the food industry what ralph nader was to the automobile industry st louis post dispatch how we choose which foods to eat is growing more complicated by the day and the straightforward practical approach of what to eat has been praised as welcome relief as nestle takes us through each supermarket section produce dairy meat fish she explains the issues cutting through foodie jargon and complicated nutrition labels and debunking the misleading health claims made by big food companies with nestle as our guide we are shown how to make wise food choices and are inspired to eat sensibly and nutritiously

a thoroughly revised classic what to eat now is a field guide to food shopping in america and a treatise on how to eat well and deliciously what to eat now is a clear eyed no nonsense guide to the most important food questions on our plate today how do we make informed dietary choices for ourselves our families and our communities in the twenty years since marion nestle s groundbreaking what to eat first came out food has undergone a radical change the emergence of techno foods the growth of corporate organics and a surge of interest in food delivery services reignited by the pandemic are just a few of the things that have altered how we think about how we eat the typical american supermarket carries more than thirty thousand products how do you choose misinformation disinformation and corporate misdirection play a crucial and hard to see role in how the average shopper thinks about and chooses food in an aisle by aisle guide nestle america s preeminent nutritionist and a founding figure in american food studies takes us through the american supermarket with persistence wit and common sense she establishes the basics of good nutrition food safety and ethical and sustainable eating and gives readers a close up look at the web of interests from supermarket slotting policies to multinational food corporations to lobbying groups that food has to navigate before it gets to your shopping basket above all else what to eat now is a defense of real food and of the value of eating deliciously mindfully and responsibly there is no one better to ask than marion who is the leading guide in intelligent unbiased independent advice on eating and has been for decades mark bittman author of how to cook everything let s ask marion is a savvy and insightful question and answer collection that showcases the expertise of food politics powerhouse marion nestle in exchanges with environmental advocate kerry trueeman these informative essays show us how to advocate for food systems that are healthier for people and the planet moving from the politics of personal dietary choices to community food issues and finally to matters that affect global food systems nestle has been thinking writing and teaching about food systems for decades and her impact is unparalleled let s ask marion provides an accessible survey of her opinions and conclusions for anyone curious about the individual social and global politics of food how does the food industry influence what people eat and therefore their health food politics is a bold unprecedented behind the scenes expose of one of america s biggest and most powerful industries a james beard award winner and the author of what to eat and soda politics leading nutritionist marion nestle exposes how the food industry corrupts scientific research for profit is chocolate heart healthy does yogurt prevent type 2 diabetes do pomegranates help cheat death news accounts bombard us with such amazing claims report them as science and influence what we eat yet as marion nestle explains these studies are more about marketing than science they are often paid for by companies that sell those foods whether it s a coca cola backed study hailing light exercise as a calorie neutralizer or blueberry sponsored investigators proclaiming that this fruit prevents erectile dysfunction every corner of the food industry knows how to turn conflicted research into big profit as nestle argues it s time to put public health first written with unmatched rigor and insight unsavory truth reveals how the food industry manipulates nutrition science and suggests what we can do about it examines how marketing practices promote overeating and malnutrition and discusses the influence the food industry has over government and health care sodas are astonishing products little more than flavored sugar water these drinks cost practically nothing to produce or buy yet have turned their makers principally coca cola and pepsico into a multibillion dollar industry with global recognition distribution and political power billed as refreshing tasty crisp and the real thing sodas also happen to be so well established to contribute to poor dental hygiene higher calorie intake obesity and type 2 diabetes that the first line of defense against any of these conditions is to simply stop drinking them habitually drinking large volumes of soda not only harms individual health but also burdens societies with runaway healthcare costs so how did products containing absurdly inexpensive ingredients become multibillion dollar industries and international brand icons while also having a devastating impact on public health in soda politics the 2016 james beard award for writing literature winner dr marion nestle answers this question by detailing all of the ways that the soft drink industry works overtime to make drinking soda as common and accepted as drinking water for adults and children dr nestle a renowned food and nutrition policy expert and public health advocate shows how sodas are principally miracles of advertising coca cola and pepsico spend billions of dollars each year to promote their sale to children minorities and low income populations in developing as well as industrialized nations and once they have stimulated that demand they leave no stone unturned to protect profits that includes lobbying to prevent any measures that would discourage soda sales strategically donating money to health organizations and researchers who can make the science about sodas appear confusing and engaging in corporate social responsibility csr activities to create goodwill and silence critics soda politics follows the money trail wherever it leads revealing how hard big soda works to sell as much of their products as possible to an increasingly obese world but soda politics does more than just diagnose a problem it encourages readers to help find solutions from berkeley to mexico city and beyond advocates are successfully countering the relentless marketing promotion and political protection of sugary drinks and their actions are having an impact for all of the hardball and softball tactics the soft drink industry employs to maintain the status quo soda consumption has been flat or falling for years health advocacy campaigns are now the single greatest threat to soda companies profits soda politics provides readers with the tools they need to keep up pressure on big soda in order to build healthier and more sustainable food systems
