adopting a critical realist approach to educational leadership this book shows how applied theory can contribute to the development of mechanisms allowing for the effective leadership of organisations through an examination of pertinent theories and debates in educational leadership and critical realist thought it moves to offer demonstrations of practical uses of critical realism that include the transformation of reflective practice the development and practice of leadership and the formulation as well as the enactment of policy considering the role that realist thought can play in the resolution of educational crises in sub saharan africa and bridging the gap between research and practice the authors argue that change is possible and that it can be initiated from within the field of educational leadership centred on a vision of social justice for human flourishing instead of operating within narrow and mechanistic pre occupations educational leadership and critical realism will appeal to scholars across the social sciences as well as to practitioners and policymakers in the field of education this edited book focuses primarily on contemporary debates and the critical and postmodern theories to be considered a significant contribution to the field this book shows that critical international relations theories which are incomprehensible and challenging are easy and understandable the book analyzes the frankfurt school constructivism post colonialism feminism critical geopolitics political economy copenhagen school aberystwyth school paris school and ontological security critical theories in international relations argues that neither identity nor security can be considered a fixed and objective issue can change according to time and space and depend on historical and sociological factors nothing is given for critical approaches and they are produced and reproduced in ever changing conditions that lead to new truths and meanings these are the results of reflexive and non linear interactions in this context it is made pedagogically understandable to the readers within this framework this book facilitates a critical investigation of gaps in theorizing and framing dark tourism by navigating through some onto epistemological issues theoretical entanglements future possibilities and the application of critical theoretical perspectives related to affect and emotions human animal studies postcolonialism feminism trauma studies posthumanism power and identity in doing so it advances the need to connect critical theory pragmatism and contemporary issues of social and global relevance given the growing body of critical research within tourism studies dark tourism has somewhat lagged behind for example critical tourism researchers have been examining postcolonialism for two decades but dark tourism research has only sporadically engaged with this topic similarly the issue of gender has been curiously neglected within dark tourism in addition dark tourism research has tended to shy away from the big challenges facing contemporary societies through its engagement with a range of critical theories this volume not only addresses gaps in the existing dark tourism literature but also moves the debate forward in exciting new directions this volume is well placed to demonstrate to other disciplines and fields that dark tourism research can be critical theoretically grounded and transformative duncan light
