explores the relationship between structure and agency through human reflexivity and the internal conversation surviving emotional work for teachers is a guide to improving teachers wellbeing and practice through support of their emotional workload the book argues that teachers should be given a formal opportunity to debrief on challenging events allowing them to reflect on and reframe these experiences in a way that informs future practice to prevent the emotional fatigue that can lead teachers to leave the field altogether each chapter opens with a teacher s story acknowledging the emotional layers present in the scenario and what learnings can be drawn from it each of these stories features tension between what is expected of teachers and how they are limited to act which is further fuelled by underlying assumptions this is valuable reading for teachers at all stages of their career whether preparing for the complex work ahead or making sense of past and current experiences this book offers a reflexive process that teachers and schools can implement to facilitate the useful exploration of their emotion such a process is vital for the overall wellbeing of any school habermas and law makes accessible the most important essays in english that deal with the application to law of the work of major philosophers for whom law was not a main concern it encompasses not only what these philosophers had to say about law but also brings together essays which consider those aspects of the work of major philosophers which bear on our interpretation and assessment of current law and legal theory the essays are based on scholarly study of particular philosophers and deal with both the nature and role of law and the application of philosophy to specific areas of law
