the relationship between the literary imagination literary possibilities and actual reality poses a major philosophical problem in the field of the metaphysics of literature this detailed analysis of some literary masterpieces by proust kafka tolstoy dostoyevsky thomas mann virginia woolf and william faulkner demonstrates that actual reality actualizes or imitates literary pure possibilities as such these masterpieces should be treated not as romans a clef but instead as paradigm cases on whose basis we grasp and understand actual reality this book sheds new light on if and why between 2009 and 2015 european governments succeeded or failed in initiating and actually realizing some of the farthest reaching austerity plans in modern history the author analyzes the economic and political context and the underlying causes of austerity and economic adjustment packages during the euro crisis in doing so he shows that austerity has its roots in an institutional mismatch between capitalist diversity in the eurozone on the one hand and an ill conceived common economic regime on the other in this context austerity trumped politics and even democracy itself the book will appeal to scholars of political science and comparative political economy as well as governmental policymakers and practitioners in the finance sector one of hegel s most controversial and confounding claims is that the real is rational and the rational is real in this book one of the world s leading scholars of hegel jean françois kervégan offers a thorough analysis and explanation of that claim along the way delivering a compelling account of modern social political and ethical life kervégan begins with hegel s term objective spirit the public manifestation of our deepest commitments the binding norms that shape our existence as subjects and agents he examines objective spirit in three realms the notion of right the theory of society and the state in conversation with toqueville and other theorists of democracy whether in the anglophone world or in europe kervégan shows how hegel often associated with grand metaphysical ideas actually had a specific conception of civil society and the state in hegel s view public institutions represent the fulfillment of deep subjective needs and in that sense demonstrate that the real is the rational because what surrounds us is the product of our collective mindedness this groundbreaking analysis will guide the study of hegel and nineteenth century political thought for years to come
