the garden of reality contemplates the relativity of religious truth religious pluralism transreligious discourse postmodern cosmology and multireligious mysticism its transreligious approach aims at a future multireligious peaceful society in an ecological and cosmic context it proposes that the future of humanity is bound to conviviality with itself and the earth that the deepest religious motivations of existing together are relative to one another and that transreligious relativity is essential to the conviction of religions that their motivations experiences and conceptualities are meaningful real and true by engaging diverse voices from poststructuralism to sufism dzogchen and philosophical daoism from conceptual frameworks of christianity and hinduism to mystical and postmodern cosmology current cosmopolitanism and interreligious and interspiritual discourses but especially understudied contributions of process thought and the bahá'í religion this book suggests that multireligious conviviality must listen to the universal relevance of a multiplicity of minority voices its polyphilic pluralism affirms the mutual immanence and co creative nature of religions and spiritualities with the universal in sistence of divine or ultimate reality in the cosmos embracing a relativistic and evolutionary paradigm in an infinite cosmos of creative becoming religions must cope with events of novelty that disturb and connect transcend and contrast the continuum of their truth claims but must avoid conflict as religious diversity is enveloped by an ever folding landscape of ultimate reality a provocative new interpretation of the adam and eve story from an expert in biblical literature the garden of eden story one of the most famous narratives in western history is typically read as an ancient account of original sin and humanity's fall from divine grace in this highly innovative study ziony zevit argues that this is not how ancient israelites understood the early biblical text drawing on such diverse disciplines as biblical studies geography archaeology mythology anthropology biology poetics law linguistics and literary theory he clarifies the worldview of the ancient israelite readers during the first temple period and elucidates what the story likely meant in its original context most provocatively he contends that our ideas about original sin are based upon misconceptions originating in the second temple period under the influence of hellenism he shows how for ancient israelites the story was really about how humans achieved ethical discernment he argues further that adam was not made from dust and that eve was not made from adam's rib his study unsettles much of what has been taken for granted about the story for more than two millennia and has far reaching implications for both literary and theological interpreters classical hebrew in the hands of ziony zevit is like a cello in the hands of a master cellist he knows all the hidden subtleties of the instrument and he makes you hear them in this rendition of the profoundly simple story of adam eve the serpent and their creator in the garden of eden zevit brings a great deal of other biblical learning to bear in a surprisingly light hearted book jack miles author of god a biography for 27 years george anderson widely considered the world's greatest living medium has listened to those on the other side gaining a unique awareness of what those souls want his millions of believers to know to understand and to accept now anderson shares this wisdom and offers an incomparable perspective on the questions faced in day to day life romans loved their gardens whether they were the grand gardens of imperial country estates or the small private spaces tucked behind city houses they treasured gardens both as places for relaxation and as plots to grow ornamental plants as well as fruits and vegetables the soothing sound of bubbling fountains often added further to the pleasures of life in the garden romans constructed gardens in every corner of their empire from britain to north africa and from portugal to asia minor long after their empire collapsed the gardens they had so carefully planted continued to exert influence in the farflung corners of their former world this book describes the variety of roman gardens throughout the empire from the humblest to the most lavish including such well known places as hadrian s villa in tivoli and the gardens of pompeii and herculaneum the continued influence of roman gardens is traced though arabic medieval and renaissance gardens to the present day many of the lavish illustrations were commissioned for this book an investigation into early modern gardens gender and writing this study considers not only published literary representations of gardens but also actual garden landscapes and unpublished evidence of everyday gardening practice jennifer munroe here analyzes how writers appropriated the developing gendered tension in gardening that stemmed from a shift from the garden as a means of feeding a family to the garden as an aesthetic object imbued with status
